Thinking about Thinking (Metacognition)

People who think about their thinking:

• plan their thinking strategies
• think back on their strategies
• evaluate the effectiveness of strategies
• are aware of how one’s actions affect others
• make a thinking plan and monitor that plan
• know how they know

Striving for Accuracy

People who strive for accuracy:

• check their work and look for ways to improve constantly
• set high standards
• review how to create a product and follow the directions
• value accuracy, precision, excellence and craftsmanship
• work to the highest level of success possible
• take pride in their work