Taking Responsible Risks

People who take responsible risks:

- are willing to do new and different things
- consider doing things that are safe, though new
- are not stopped by the fear of making mistakes
- draw on past knowledge and are thoughtful of the consequences of their actions
- go beyond established limits if they know they will not be harmed
- willing to take chances in the moment

Finding Humor

People who do so:

- laugh
- find the whimsical and unexpected
- see the world with a unique point of view
- initiate and value humor
- are verbally playful when talking with others
- see ironies and absurdities
- laugh at situations and themselves